Brian,

Many citizen complaints concerning the homeless revolve around aggressive panhandling. The homeless congregate and loiter in areas that support their lifestyle.

One thought would be to educate customers of restaurants, stores, etc on the damage done when giving spare change to panhandlers.

I wonder how successful we would be if we tried to convince business owners to display something similar to the below photo?

Would the BID be willing to fund the printing cost, if we could all agree on the wording?
